Parental Consent for Participation in Video Conferencing

Terms and conditions of use

- To provide distance learning, teachers of LTMHS may use video conferencing to reach/teach their students. LTMHS teachers will only use the following platforms: Zoom or Google Meet.
- Students entering the video conferencing sessions should have their camera and microphone turned off.
- Students have no obligation to turn their camera on.
- Microphone should be turned off at all times, except when directed by the teacher to do otherwise.
- By turning their camera and microphone on, students accept to be seen or heard by the rest of the participants.
- Teachers may record their teaching session so that students can access it at a later time.
- Teachers recording their teaching session will not record any interactions between the students and the teacher.
- Students are not allowed to record or take screenshots of the video conferencing sessions.
- Prior to entering video conferencing sessions, students must have read the students' video conferencing code of conduct, shared by the school.
- Students not respecting the terms and conditions and the code of conduct may be removed from the video conferencing session by the teacher.

I have read and accepted the terms and conditions listed above, and certify that my child will abide by them and by the video conferencing code of conduct.

I understand that if my child chooses to turn on their camera or microphone, he/she does it of his/her will and accepts to be seen or heard by other participants.
